

Cicerennella

This dance is better known as the “Neapolian Tarantella”, and during the Middle Ages, it was reputed to have the magic power to ward off the effects of the poisonous spider – the “Tarantula.”

Qualche mago, qualche fata
Cicerennella s’ha rubata
Uhe vaglione piccerilli
Vui avite da strilla?

What witch, what fairy
Hast stolen my Cicerennella
And has left me
Alone and distressed?

Suone e cante
Aluche strille
Fin che s’aggiada trov
Cicerennella, Cicere, Cicerenne.

Sing and shout
Loud and strong,
Perhaps we can find her.
Cicerennella, Cicere, Cicerenne.

Cicerennella chi s’a pigliata,
Cicerennella, Cicerenne,
Cicerennella ca nun cesta.

Cicerennella, who is caught,
Cicerennella, Cicerenne,
Cicerennella, who is not here.

Se nun te trovo, Cicerennella,
Cicerennella, Cicerenne,
Voglioca subito presto muri,

If I don’t find you, Cicerennella,
Cicerennella, Cicerenne,
I want you to die right now, quickly!
