Joy burns in our heart
and our feet flow with gladness.
Thus we tread our homeland's earth
and sing: It's good to live!

The song streams exultingly
on mountains and valleys.
In our breast still beats
the call that it's good to live.

We won't stop because there is plenty of strength and energy.
Our whole body burns fire
and our heart quakes.

Be gone every pain.
We'll drive away every mishap
and we'll go around and around in a hora without end. Because...
